REVOLUTION IN TEXAS.

IT will be remembered, that, in the beginning of her revolution, in 1836, Texas offered large bounties in land to volunteers to serve in her armies.

We can now offer, to the survivors, and heirs of those who thus served, the recovery of all the lands promised by the Government of Texas. We are also prepared to prosecute all Texas land claims regardless of date or character, whether Spanish, Mexican, or American Boundary, Survey, or Illegitimate. Having complete access to the Manuscripts, Maps, Records, and other documents in the Public Offices at Austin city, we enjoy superior advantages for investigations of all kinds in regard to claims.

We will give particular attention to the recovery of LAND CERTIFICATES FOR INVESTIGATION, we can offer particular inducements. Our thorough and intimate knowledge of the vacant lands and surveys of the state, obtained from personal inspection, insures the most favorable locations, and perfect titles.

Long experience and close attention to the LARGO system and an accurate knowledge of the different classes of titles, together with the large amount of land registered in our office for sale, enables us to furnish prompt and reliable information, and assistance to persons desiring good homes, and to afford superior advantages to those wishing to make safe and profitable investments.

We are offering our BALM LARGO in every part of the state—improved and unimproved, of every variety, and in areas to suit purchasers of all sizes and city lots—in short every kind of real estate on the most favorable terms.

To reasons having land in Texas for sale, we would say, that we keep books, in which are registered descriptions [furnished by the owners, or obtained by personal inspection] and full exhibits of title &c., of all titles to be sold, and furnishing a cheap and effective mode of advertisement. If desired, we will examine land in any part of the state, ascertain its value, and report faithfully. Registering for one dollar.

We invite the attention of MERCANTILE FIRMS, and individuals to our office as furnishing a speedy and effective mode of collecting.

By activity, energy, and fidelity to the interest of our employees we hope to merit the confidence of the business public.

THE IMPORTED BULL

PATHFINDER

WILL be permitted to serve a few fine

Cows at twenty five dollars to ensure a cow with calf.

Not more than ten cows can be received before the first of July, as his engagements are nearly complete up to that time.

In offering the services of this bull to the breeders of fine blooded cattle, we invite their most critical attention to his pedigree, as being if not unequalled, certainly, unsurpassed in the variety and purity of his crosses, by that of any animal ever imported into America.

His pedigree on the dam's side will be found in the Kentucky Cultivator.

The pedigree of his sires are much too long for insertion in any public print. We will therefore only state now, that among his most immediate grandsons in the herd book, are to be found the names of such bulls, as Buchan Star (3236), Sir Thomas Fairfax (5196) Norfolk (2377) and Bates' second tubbs (1423) through whom he descends in a direct line from Mr. Bates' celebrated Cow Duchess 1st, the great original of which is known as the "Duchess of York" of short horns.

The bulls offered above were all winners of prizes in England and accurate Engravings of the first three are given in the herd book, from which breeders may determine accurately the merits and demerits of this strain of stock.

The pedigree of Pathfinder is peculiarly exempt from the evils of too close breeding, indeed no "in and out" cross can be found in it, and we therefore have every reason to anticipate vigor of constitution and symmetry of form in his calves.

Cows sent from a distance will receive every attention, but we will incur no liability for accidents.

Payment made to the Principal or the Treasurer of the College. F. C. McALLISTER, Sec. Ex. Com., Aug. 18, 1853.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE, KENTUCKY.

THIS institution occupies a high rank among Western Colleges. Its Library, Cabinet, Museum, and apparatus are unsurpassed. Its literary course is the same as that of Yale College, while its scientific course combines all the best portions of the course at West Point.

For young men designed for professional business there is a course of three years in which a thorough knowledge is imparted in Agricultural Chemistry, Physiology, Zoology, Practical Engineering, Principles of Commerce, and Book Keeping. In this practical feature the College is believed to be unequalled. Its aim is to furnish American scholars, and American business men. The rapidly increasing number of students in attendance is proof of its high rank and efficiency.

This school of learning is no mere experiment, whose permanence is doubtful, and whose diploma is therefore of uncertain value. It is in a position to exercise and maintain a wide influence without the loss of expense, and to require of its students every effort to be equal to the task. Its high scholarly and morally upright department, it has boarding arrangements adapted to all classes of students; and so adjusted as to avoid the dangers inseparable from the practice of crowding 150 or 200 young men into one building. Students for the ministry can board for about $40 per College year. Others of known good moral habits, for about $55 or $60; while those who prefer boarding in private families can do so at from $30 to $100. Nestored is allowed to board in any family but such as the Faculty shall approve; and a strict kind of supervision is exercised by the faculty over every student wherever he may board.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions. The first commences on the third Monday in September, the second, on the first Monday in February.

COMMENCEMENT DAY

Occurs on the last Thursday in June. Tuition $20 per session.

The annual catalogue may be had by application to the President, Rev. D. R. Campbell L. D. B. S. F. GANO, Secy. of the Board of Trustees.

ACCOMMODATION LINE.

THE undersigned would respectfully inform his friends and the public that he is now running his new and commodious

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES.
In the event of our distinguished Congressional representative accepting the mission to Spain, (of which we presume there is no doubt) it becomes necessary to elect another well qualified representative of the late Ashland district to occupy the position so ably filled for the past two sessions by Hon. J. C. Breckinridge.

In the Yeoman of a late date, Robt. W. Woolly, Esq., of Fayette has been spoken of as the successor of Major B. In terms of high but just commendation, and should we be satisfied that he is the man for the present political crisis, no editor of his own political party would yield him more disinterested and cordial support than ourselves.

Mr. Woolly is a young gentleman of commanding talents, for whom we entertain the utmost respect and the most friendly feelings; but we frankly confess that our preferences and what we demand to be judicious policy, turn our thoughts in a different direction.

Did we alone consult personal feelings, our preference might be directed toward a talented and clever personal friend, of the Whig school of politics; but believing that at this time, no Congressman is needed who from principle as well as policy would sternly rebuke, on the stump or in the Halls of Congress, the anti-Republcan sentiment now being exhibited there and elsewhere by representatives of 'Sam,' we unite with personal friend, Wm. J. Johnson, Esq., James Allen, the self-sacrificing Texas patriot and popular statesman, would be by us, most cordially and earnestly supported for any office in the gift of the good people of this Congressional district. We trust therefore that his claims, and the claims of the other gentlemen whose names we have taken the liberty of mentioning in connection with this office, will be fairly considered in any nomination which may be made by the Freemen of this district. Our remarks, as an independent editor, may be deemed officious and impertinent by the Democratic press of the District; but we testify that which we do know, for the benefit of men of Republican principles, without fear, favor or affection for parties or partisans of any or either shade of political complexion; and if, unfortunately for the cause of truth and justice, esteemed friends, and respected contemporaries of the Democratic press take umbrage from our suggestions, all we have to say is, 'Why gentlemen, let yourselves at' for we are always prepared to give a reason for the faith that is within us.

—A clever gentleman in our friend S. H. PARRY, the trusted and highly respected Cincinnati agent of the Press of the West and South. Unlike the Eastern agents of the Press, he is prompt to meet his engagements, and frequently anticipates the demands of those who have claims against him for advertisements he has procured and furnished. There is good policy in this mode of doing business, for which our friend Pervin is already distinguished; for in consideration of his prompt and honorable dealing with the craft editorial, there is not a publisher within the purview of his agency, who would not be disposed to give him as good if not better terms than those they would offer even to transatlantic rash customers. We trust that the business of his agency will so increase as to warrant its continuance and enlargement; for the establishment of an honest, reliable and efficient agency in the city of Cincinnati, is a matter of paramount importance to the Press of the West and South, West. Those who are not connected with the Press also, will find him a prompt and reliable agent for the transaction of any business which they may have in the metropolis of Pork. Call and see for yourself, gentle reader.

—We hooked the following paragraph from a keen contemporary, because it applies as well to our latitude or to his. As we are free to admit that it is almost as good as any paragraph of the kind we could imagine we presume he will not complain—"a friend's feeling makes us wonderous kind"—of our "appropriating" propensity, in this case.

—Stopping for a few days in the metropolis of Porkopolis, we put up at the Dennison House—the general resort of Kentuckians, when visiting the city of Cincinnati. Every thing connected with this establishment, from the courteous and hospitable host and clerks, down to the female waiters and firemen, is conducted on a style to make one feel at home. We speak disinterestedly, for when we go abroad we 'sink the shop' and are too proud to aspire to be a 'dead head.' Hence, with entire freedom and cordiality, we can advise our Kentucky friends and the traveling public generally, when visiting the city of Cincinnati, to patronize the Dennison House, if they crave gaudiness, prompt and polite service, comfortable beds, and reasonable charges.

—The traveling public who have occasion to pass through, or tarry in the city of Lexington, may find very pleasant accommodations in the Broadway House, kept by our urban and hospitable friend Dibble.

Again, where is JAMES ALLEN, the Democratic gentleman who has just come out of a heated contest with the Know Nothings of Lexington, clothed with honor, and armed with the weapons of Republican principles? Why should not this man, who, from his earliest youth, is the field of Mexico, at Monterey and in the Halls of the Texas Legislature, [so a seat in which he was almost unanimous] elected, maintained truly Republican and purely Democratic principles, receive the instant and unanimous support of the gallant Democracy of the 8th District? Indeed, from our knowledge of the man, and his bold and uncompromising advocacy of Republican principles versus the tyranny and Jesuitism of Know Nothingism, we are disposed to deem him, perhaps, the most competent and most available candidate of the Democracy of the 8th District. The recent election in Lexington has exhibited the political meanness of his character; and though defeated by a few votes, he was the only Democrat in Lexington who could have carried such a vote. It is evident, therefore, that JAMES ALLEN, Esq., independent of his talents, which are of a high order, his consistency and distinguished services to his country and to his profession, which we have met with and suffered from in our time; hence we rejoice to witness the skillful manner in which the talented editor uses his pen upon the whole race of medical pretenders.

A most amusing and caustic article is given in the January number of the racy periodical, entitled, "The last words of an old Medical Fox, caught in a New York Fashionable Trap, to his young brethren outside."

The Scalpel is a Quarterly of 64 pages, at $1 per annum in advance, or 25 cents per number. Address the Editor, Box 3121 New York Post Office.

—We are pleased to learn that the skill of our esteemed friend, Dr. Hamill, as a Dentist, is properly appreciated by the ladies and gentlemen of our little burg. We have had an opportunity of putting his skill to the test in more than one instance, and finding that in his profession he was not to be excelled (and we have had some chance for extended observation) we have no hesitation in cordially recommending him to the liberal patronage of this community. By-the-bye, those who need his services, should either make an appointment or call upon him early in the day—his skillful services being almost constantly in demand by the enterprising fair sex of our town and county.

—BENJAMIN D. HAMILL, Esq., one of the cleverest specimens of whole mated 'Young America' with whom we have the pleasure of an acquaintance, was in town last week having just arrived from his Arkansas plantation. We are always gratified to grasp the hand of such men—honest, high-minded honorable gentlemen; the more so, because such pleasures are, in these times serving end defeating, like angel's visits, few and far between! Health, happiness and prosperity to our esteemed friend Hamill, wherever his lot may be cast.

—We have received from our attentive and popular representative Hon. J. C. Breckinridge, handsomely bound copies of the 'Cass Survey,' the 'Post Office Report,' and a 'Compendium of the Census,' three useful and valuable works, for the reception of which he has already distinguished; for in consideration of his prompt and honorable dealing with the craft editorial, there is not a publisher within the purview of his agency, who would not be disposed to give him as good if not better terms than those they would offer even to transatlantic rash customers. We trust that the business of his agency will so increase as to warrant its continuance and enlargement; for the establishment of an honest, reliable and efficient agency in the city of Cincinnati, is a matter of paramount importance to the Press of the West and South, West. Those who are not connected with the Press also, will find him a prompt and reliable agent for the transaction of any business which they may have in the metropolis of Pork. At some future time we will have a word to say about our Cincinnati advertiser, procured through the efficient agency of our friend Pervin; at present we have neither space or time for the elongation of our sincere commendation of modest merit.

—We hooked the following paragraph from a keen contemporary, because it applies as well to our latitude or to his. As we are free to admit that it is almost as good as any paragraph of the kind we could imagine we presume he will not complain—"a friend's feeling makes us wonderous kind"—of our "appropriating" propensity, in this case.

—A HILLY DACK AOK.—We noticed a few days since, posted up in a conspicuous place, a written notice, advertising the sale of some valuable property, we have forgotten now what. We frequently see written advertisements for sale of small value, and they are had enough in all conscience, but to see a sale of any considerable consequence to the advertiser or any one else announced in writing to this prolix enlightened age, is, in our judgment, a rare sight, especially in the neighborhood of that office, whose job printing of every kind is done in the best style, and on reasonable terms.

Georgetown and Louisville.
Those to the enterprise of our friend Hopkins, a man can go from Georgetown to Louisville in one day, and have two or three hours to do business in the city of Louisville. We speak disinterestedly, for when we go abroad we 'sink the shop' and are too proud to aspire to be a 'dead head.' Hence, with entire freedom and cordiality, we can advise our Kentucky friends and the traveling public generally, when visiting the city of Cincinnati, to patronize the Dennison House, if they crave gaudiness, prompt and polite service, comfortable beds, and reasonable charges.

—Wm. J. Smith, a well known merchant of New Orleans, committed suicide on the 8th by blowing out his brains with a pistol. Misfortune in business is assigned the cause.

The Scalpel.
A quarterly periodical, published by Dr. E. H. Dixon, of New York, is an admirable expositor of the humbug exercised by many members of the profession which too frequently surrounding itself with an affectation of mystery and the ridiculous use of high-falutin' terms, seeks to involve the too patient world in a mad fit of fun which, when unfortunately submitted to its operation, it is very difficult to escape without an impaired constitution and a fearfully diminished purse. Such humbugs of the profession we have met with and suffered from in our time; hence we rejoice to witness the skillful manner in which the talented editor uses his pen upon the whole race of medical pretenders.

A most amusing and caustic article is given in the January number of the racy periodical, entitled, "The last words of an old Medical Fox, caught in a New York Fashionable Trap, to his young brethren outside."

—In support of what we have said of Col. John Rowan, see what able political opponent—the talented (but rather ultra whig) editor of the Paducah Journal says:

Col. John Rowan.—We republish to day the letter of Col. Rowan declining to permit the use of his name on a gubernatorial aspirant, and giving his reasons therefor. We have always been opposed to the Colonel's policies, but we highly esteem him as a friend and a true-hearted Kentucky gentleman.

PUBLIC MEETING.

It will be seen by the following, that the duty of providing for the necessities of the needy of this county, is in fair train of operation; as the various committees appointed have the confidence of their fellow citizens, and the necessities of some in the county, are immediate and pressing. We trust that there will be no holding back or delay in forwarding contributions of money or produce; but that all who are able to give, over this widow's mite, will unite in maintaining the reputation of our good citizens for active benevolence.

ED.

At an adjourned meeting of the citizens of Scott county, held at Georgetown, on the 20th inst., for the purpose of procuring means for the benefit of the poor of said county, out of arranging a plan for the distribution of the same; the following resolutions were adopted:

1st. That the Committee of the Georgetown Precinct, James Gaines, H. C. Glass, R. Thompson, and P. Rankin; be a central committee, whose duty it shall be, in addition to procuring subscriptions, to import supplies of corn or flour from time to time—to deposit the same with the Treasurer of the County and to give orders for such amounts, in favor of each person for their discretion may direct.

2d. That the said Committee be the different districts, be required also to procure what means they can, and deposit the same with the Treasurer of this meeting, unless the contributions be in provisions, and then they had better distribute the same themselves. That they be requested to give the names of the needy in their Districts, in the Central Committee, and assign the same in whatever manner they can in carrying out the object of the meeting.

3d. Resolved, that Samuel Eggin be, and is appointed Treasurer of this meeting. He shall receive all monies collected by the various committees, and pay out only upon drafts of the central Committee. Two of whom may draw on him, either for money to defray expenses incurred in the purchase of provisions or for supplies to those needing them.

4th. That whereas there may be some persons applying for the benefit of the committee, who may prefer to pay something in advance, for the benefit of others unable to do so. Resolved that the Committee, receive such payments as contributions and remit them to new supplies.

5th. That the Central Committee be empowered to do such other things, as may be incident to the carrying out of the above plan.

6th. Resolved, that the proceedings of the meeting be published in the Georgetown Herald.

A. DUVAL, Pres't.

P. RABINE, Sec'y.

NOT ADJOURNED TO HAIL.—We learn that the examination of Pratt, who murdered Miller, near Jeffersonville, a few days ago, has been concluded. The examining court decided that the case was not a capital offense, but a criminal one, and committed Pratt to the Clark county jail, to await an indictment for murder.

Georgetown and Louisville.

Those to the enterprise of our friend Hopkins, a man can go from Georgetown to Louisville in one day, and have two or three hours to do business in the city of Louisville. We speak disinterestedly, for when we go abroad we 'sink the shop' and are too proud to aspire to be a 'dead head.'

—Wm. J. Smith, a well known merchant of New Orleans, committed suicide on the 8th by blowing out his brains with a pistol. Misfortune in business is assigned the cause.

John Rawson, Esq.—
A letter from this gentleman, published in another name, who has been suggested as a suitable candidate for the office of Governor, by those who know and properly appreciate his high-toned character, betrays the melancholy fact that he cannot except a woman because forsaken, his wife is a scold.

Mr. Rawson, who we once had the pleasure of knowing personally, is of Kentucky birth and parentage, an ancestry has done good service for the State in days of yore, and himself, besides being endowed with a high order of talents and enterprise, is a very fair specimen of Kentucky chivalry—a chevalier sans peur, et sans reproche—blissed with a large soul, and distinguished for his courtesy and urbanity. In short, in who would fill the gubernatorial office with honor to himself and credit to the Commonwealth.

And yet this good citizen and well qualified gentleman is debarred from becoming a candidate for the office, he is so eminently qualified to fill it, by the fact that the American lady, who calls him husband and is the mother of his children, presumes to worship God in accordance with the formulae of the Roman Catholic Church such as elect carries with it own cross, inset to the mind of the rational reader; and is a stronger argument against the Know Nothing platform, that ought that we could say or write.

—Those of our readers who do business in Cincinnati will find our very clever friend Wm. M. McCaus, well known and highly esteemed here abouts, at the Produce, Commission and Forwarding House of W. M. Shaw, No. 73 Walnut, between Columbia and Pearl streets. When you go to Cincinnati to trade or transact business, he will be sure, if you tell him you are from Scott county, to put you through your business in the neatest and best style. He is a real Kentucky "brick" in feelings and principles.

—In support of what we have said of Col. John Rowan, see what able political opponent—the talented (but rather ultra whig) editor of the Paducah Journal says:
